Autumn Term Week 12

Your round-up of what's been happening in our school this week ...

Teaching and Learning at Grafham Grange

A message from the Art Department...

More fantastic work has been produced by students in the Art Department this week. Year 11 students in Newlands have been mounting up and annotating their coursework to show the process of their ideas. Denys and Sam have presented their work in a very thoughtful manner – well done to both for working methodically!

Elliot (Hascombe) has been developing his Autumn project using poly print. His multi-layer print of a forest scene shows a careful and controlled approach. This is a very mature piece of work – well done!

Coursework by Sam

Forest print by Elliot

Textwork by Denys

A special mention goes to Elliot for his first time on the quad this week. This is a great achievement Elliot, well done!

A little reminder that Assessment week will be taking place from 11th December; this will be the Year 11's mocks and will be their first chance to get the real exam experience. ***
